

SLAIN DETESTIST FATAL NIGHT

Worcester, Feb. 11.—At the fifth day of the trial of the young firebrand, Raymond Plouffe, who is accused of murdering Dr. Henry M. Stone of Newburyport, in Harvard, on the night of September 11, Conductor Harris L. Childs of train No. 16, which passes through Ayer at 9:07 each night, testified that he took no passenger from Ayer to Boston that night.

Dr. Stone left the farm home of his sister, Mrs. Charles Davis, in Harvard, the night he was killed. He had intended going down to Newburyport, and was anxious to enter the 9:07 train. Plouffe drove him to a house. Plouffe has said that he drove up to the station with the dentist that night just as the 9:07 train was starting out.

Conductor on the Stand.
Today Conductor Childs, bringing his train back with him, took the stand. He stated that the 9:07 train left Ayer station at 9:12 on the night of September 11. They were 45 minutes late, being three minutes at Hingham taking water and three more at Ayer substituting a train.

The conductor said that he carried no passenger from Ayer to Boston that night, that he had received no ticket from any passenger from Ayer for Boston, nor had he taken up mileage from anyone for that distance. He said he had made himself sure of that fact later in the week of the murder.

Plouffe has told the officers he left the train with Dr. Stone at 8:40 that September night, which would have given him twenty-seven minutes to reach the Ayer station, a distance of two and one-quarter miles. Conductor Childs' record would show that Plouffe had thirty-three minutes. Plouffe has stated that he had to drive hard to make the time and that it was starting out from the station just as he and Dr. Stone drove up.

Buggy Was Caught.
State Police Officer Matt and Deputy Sheriff Tibbott were recalled today by the defense. Both stated that they did not know who the two men were who, in the station at Ayer the night of Plouffe's arrest, told them they had seen the accused drive to the station the night of the murder.

The officers stated that they did not attach much importance to what these men had said, because they declared Plouffe was driving an open democrat, whereas when Plouffe had admitted he drove a covered buggy.

GIRL MARRIED BY AID OF UNCLE SAM

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—William M. Thum, the young engineer whose fiancée used her influence with the government to order that he might be spared from the burdensome task of building the Hudson canal long enough to take into his own wife, on schedule time, arrived on the Panama steamship yesterday. Miss Charlotte V. Morris, the clever girl whom he is to marry, was waiting for him at the dock.

The government had other plans for William M. Thum for February 12, the date set for the wedding. It seemed that the young man would have to leave with many girls it would have been Miss Morris, however, got to the ear of the Secretary of War, and the official mandate went forth: "Bring William M. Thum in New York at once."

CHINAMAN SLAIN IN A TONG PLOTT

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Y. L. Ling, a Chinese, was slain today in his laundry chamber, on Sixth street, East New York, at No. 1812 Broadway. Ling was a well-known figure in the neighborhood, and his death has caused a great deal of excitement. The police are investigating the case.

STABS FRIEND HE THOUGHT BURGULAR

GROVEPORT, Feb. 11.—Fighting in the dark, a young man, who he thought a burglar to death with a letter knife. Lockard later found that he had killed a friend, a young man, who he had known for some time. The police are investigating the case.

NEW MEDICAL DISCOVERY

For All Skin Troubles.

A chemist who was convinced that the old method of taking internal medicine to cure skin diseases was erroneous, has discovered that an extract from a particular part of a well-known tree possesses antiseptic and astringent properties on the skin. This extract, it was found, that this valuable vegetable extract was difficult to compound with other ingredients necessary to present it in a form convenient to use. After further investigations and experiments a method of special treatment was devised, resulting in a combination of ingredients possessing to a marked degree valuable therapeutic properties. The like of which has never before been produced. This important product is known as Cadum. Its introduction Cadum has cured many cases of chronic eczema and other unsightly, irritating and distressing skin diseases, and this after other treatments have failed. It stops the terrible itching of eczema at once, and begins the healing process with the first application. Its action is still more remarkable in less serious skin troubles, such as hives, pimples, blotches, tetter, itch, acne, herpes, scaly skin, psoriasis, ringworm, rash, chafes, eruptions, itching piles, scurvy, blackheads, boils, etc. Many of the results effected by Cadum may be truly called remarkable. It destroys disease-causing germs, allays inflammation, and is soothing and healing to the skin. Trial box 30c; large box 50c.

GIRL WHO IS TO MARRY THEODORE ROOSEVELT, JR.

Though believing that the contents of the envelope were stored in the building and that they were in imminent danger of being blown by any minute, women and police of Newburyport rushed into the garage of Lawrence A. Hunter at Hancock street and Columbia road to avoid further trouble and to prevent an explosion and the destruction of the building. The fire was extinguished, with $5000 damage, and after the fire had been dragged out, it was discovered that the gasoline tank was an underground one, located about four feet beneath the building and fitted with pipe, safety valve and other lightening preventive. The garage of the detectives was near the loss presumed, however, and the train of the while they worked was saved.

DYING MAN IS CURED OF DREAD MENINGITIS BY DR. LEARY'S SERUM

Leary's Meningitis, the most dread and fatal form of pneumonia, has been snatched from the list of deadly fatal diseases by a Boston man. The vaccine invented by Dr. Timothy Leary of Tufts Medical School has brought back to health a man for whom all hope had been given up.

The discovery of the effective serum "pneumonia" was announced by Dr. Leary some time ago, but the case made public today is the first in which the life of a human being has been saved.

A pneumonia vaccine was used as effectively as quinine vaccine, or the diphtheria antitoxin, which has saved millions of lives, has been sought for years.

The patient in this remarkable case is a Revere man. He had an acute case of lepto-meningitis, an extension of pneumonia to the central cord. His temperature had reached about the 104 mark, and he was evidently dying when the physician decided to try Dr. Leary's serum. There was nothing to be lost by trying it on a dying man and everything to be gained if it could prove successful.

The physician, Dr. J. Stewart Morris and Dr. Joseph E. Lamb, obtained some of the serum from Dr. Leary. Because of the dying condition of the patient they gave him as a first dose ten times the ordinary amount. Smaller doses were injected every few hours and at lower intervals when the temperature seemed to be rising again.

This was a weak age. Now the patient is able to sit up in bed. The man who without doubt saved the physician's life.

The new serum, like that discovered by Dr. Simon Flexner of the Rockefeller Institute for the cure of cerebro-spinal meningitis, is the direct result of vivisection and experiments on animals. The pneumonia germs were first obtained by Dr. Leary from a victim of the disease and injected into a guinea pig. Like the small pox vaccine obtained from the cow or horse, the germs underwent a transformation in the animal and from the animal the new serum was extracted. It must not be taken to mean that the right combination of the exact proportions in which the new vaccine should be applied. Animals were used throughout the experimental stages. Dr. Leary could not allow the use of his serum until some of experimentation convinced him that he was absolutely right.

Complete records of the Revere case have been submitted to Dr. Leary for further study and for proof that at last the pneumonia meningitis germ is no longer incurable.

SEINE FLOOD PERIL AGAIN ON INCREASE

PARIS, Feb. 11.—Growth dried. The banks of the Seine at Paris today awaiting for the second flood of the river to reach its crest. As the hydrographic office had announced. Although the river continued to rise slowly and reports from the tributary streams doubtless that they were higher, it was predicted authoritatively here that the Seine would begin to go down before the crest of these floods in mid-

The government is preparing to loan $20,000,000 for the work of rehabilitation.

Flynn Signs Up to Meet Boston Boxer SAM LANGFORD IN FINISH FIGHT

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11.—Things came to a climax today between Sam Langford and the Pacific Flyer, Jim Flynn, who beat him the other night in a ten-round bout, as the pair were matched to go in a finish on March 15, in Venice, a spot just outside the city limits.

There was an other way out of the trouble. Flynn gained a decision which was reversed by popular acclaim. Langford has been the victim of a similar fate. He made his comeback about Flynn, but in a ten-round bout, he was again defeated. The fight between the two men will be the last of the season.

M'CANN, HEAD OF LYNN BASEBALL CLUB, RESIGNS

LYNN, Feb. 11.—President Matthew McCann of the Lynn New England League baseball club, was honored in his resignation of the annual meeting of the association of officers the first Monday in March, and neither expected respect themselves in attending that Harry D. Cummings, now a lawyer, will be elected his successor.

Mr. McCann's withdrawal from the leading position in the club's affairs will be a big surprise to the baseball fans throughout New England, he always having been prominent in baseball legislation.

Locally he was president of the Lynn Association team for three years, and when

Mr. McCann is chairman of the scheduling committee of the league, which meets in the afternoon to approve. In referring to his action in giving up the active affairs of management, he said it was his idea that he should be permitted to work long enough to be considered a free agent and then to take the reins in charge.

What Might Have Happened

By JAMES J. MONTAGUE

WHEN the Newton saw that apple tumbling from an orchard tree, he got free and two mother and now.

Newton had his chance at easy fame. Happy days for everybody, till the chest of letters came. If the present scale of prices had prevailed in Isaac's time, Apples wouldn't fall in orchards—while little boys could climb!

When Columbus landed through Europe for the funds to sail away. Over the rocking, rolling billows to the unknown E. & A.

To attract the kindly notice of the men with such to land. He went to the aid and taught them how to land an egg on.

And the lovely Isabella, vastly pleased to have the boat. Placed in back her new dress to provide him with his foot.

With such eyes of present prices, vainly might Columbus beg. He would have no trick to aid him, for he couldn't beg the egg!

Discovered gravity. Teaching all his wondering brethren to his own immense regret.

Why detached and moving objects don't fall up, instead of down. Happy days were these when

STRENGTH IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Following an irregular opening, the stock market in Wall street today showed decided strength, and on liberal transactions advanced about one point. Reading, Union Pacific and Rock Island were the most active. The stock of Rock Island, which recovered strength developed in the early part of the session, particularly Chesapeake & Ohio.

At the opening, Augmented last week's advance of 1/2 point, the index of the list was advancing, and the market was buoyant. But the advance was also lost nearly one point in the early part of the session, but recovered all the loss later.

American shares were irregular in price, and were a mixed bag.

Mining shares were steady on the New York exchange.

A German Professor Denies That Jesus Christ Ever Lived

But His Denial Need Not Worry the Devout, and It Will Not Convince the Student of History.

Cable news from Berlin describes a scene of great excitement, with a learned professor, Arthur Drews, of Karlsruhe, as the centre. Professor Drews addressed a great meeting gathered together by his announcement that he would prove historically that Jesus Christ never had any actual existence.

On the night following his lecture of denial he appeared before a gathering of theologians and a great crowd of excited and fearful men and women to answer all objections to his alleged discovery.

Bewildered and terrified by his statements, a number of women were carried out fainting. One woman, standing on a chair with hands outstretched upward, implored divine power to come down and strike the blasphemous professor dead. She was deeply grieved, of course, when no lightning came and when the professor was permitted to continue until 3 o'clock in the morning his denial of the actual existence of Christ.

The sorrows and tears of those women were wasted. No believer and no student of history need be disturbed or convinced by the learned professor's statements and misstatements.

The fact that the lightning did not come down and kill him does not in the last prove the truth of the professor's theory.

Cosmic power in our day does not condescend to give individual demonstrations to oblige individuals, or to notice feeble blasphemy or childish denial.

A German professor may deny the greatest and most important truth and live to tell the tale and repeat the performance.

Good men need not worry about his statements or his survival.

What is more important is the fact that Christ ACTUALLY DID LIVE ON THE EARTH. And what is important, above all, is the fact that His spirit lives and works here at this day.

The reality of Christ's life on earth can be proved and HAS been proved historically.

The learned Professor Drews, and Straus, the famous historian, seek to belittle the testimony of Josephus, the Jewish historian, saying that his reference to Christ was merely a passing casual reference of little meaning.

This reference by Josephus has the GREATEST POSSIBLE meaning. It was the testimony of an UNWILLING witness.

We could not expect a thoroughly convinced Catholic or Protestant writer of our day to make more than a passing, and perhaps slighting, reference to the existence of a modern religious teacher, such as the late Dowie or Mrs. Eddy, for instance. Yet, such a reference, however slight, grudging and hostile, would be invaluable as a statement of fact, and infinitely convincing BECAUSE of the hostility accompanying it.

Josephus's attitude naturally was one of hostility to the great founder of the Christian religion. It was natural that his reference should be slight and slighting. But it was absolutely convincing.

Ernest Renan, a profound student, if there ever lived one, emphasizes the hostility of Josephus toward the character and the individuality of Christ.

"Josephus, who wrote chiefly for the Pagans, has not the same sincerity of style. His meagre accounts of Jesus, the Baptist and Judas, the Galileans, are dry and colorless. We feel that he seeks to represent these movements so profoundly Jewish in character and spirit, in a form which would be intelligible to Greeks and Romans. Taken as a whole, I believe the passage in regard to Jesus to be authentic. It is perfectly in the style of Josephus; and if that historian mentioned Jesus at all it is just in this manner that he would have spoken of him. We feel, however, that the hand of a Christian has touched the fragment, adding to it words without which it would have been welling blasphemy; also abridging and modifying some expressions."

The feeling of Josephus is revealed here in the fact of his having spoken with bitter hostility, and, from the Christian standpoint, with blasphemy of Christ.

Renan himself, by no means the exponent of the orthodox believer, supplies historical proof as to the reality of the existence of Christ.

Renan was the enemy of everything that called itself faith or revelation. Only cold, historical proof could interest him. He says:

"In respect of ancient testimony, I believe I have not overlooked any source of information. Not to mention a multitude of scattered data, we still have five great collections of writings respecting Jesus and the times in which He lived. These are: First, the Gospels and the New Testament writings in general; second, the compositions called the 'Apocrypha of the Old Testament'; third, the works of Philo; fourth, those of Josephus; fifth, the Talmud."

Fortunately for the world, no believer, no man of intelligence, with or without creed, requires any "proof" of the actual existence of Christ. His existence is proved in the changed conditions of the world, in the wonderful power of His name, in the greater kindness toward women and children and the poor.

If the freshness and flowers of the Spring prove that the rain has fallen upon the earth, then the better condition among men, the greater kindness and gentleness in the world prove that Christ did live upon this earth, and worked and talked here.

And this work is only begun, and its results are barely seen.

A thousand and a million years from now the gentle spirit of the world's great and beautiful teacher will be upon this earth, working for the true brotherhood which he taught.

In due time a moral, regenerate human race, obedient to His teachings and mindful of His warnings will prove that Christ did indeed live here and die here, and NOT IN VAIN.

Issue That Cannot Be Postponed

The arousing of the nation's interest in a definite plan for the federal incorporation of the great concerns that do a national business has not come a day too soon. On the contrary, it has come several years too late. The presentation of the Hearst bill for national incorporation three years ago was by no means premature.

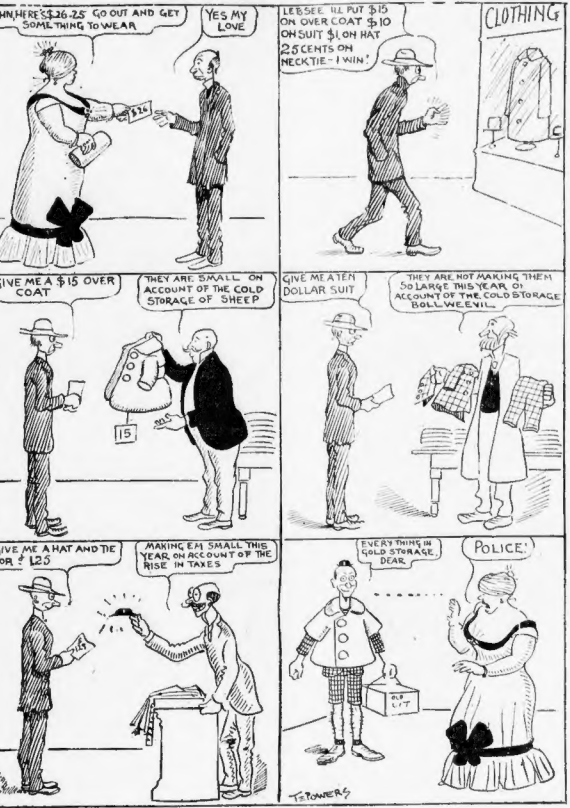

The country is in the throes of serious economic disorders that are directly due to the lack of an adequate governmental control over the gigantic combinations that furnish, after their own fashion, most of the necessities of life.

The arbitrary taxing power of these concerns is intolerable. If allowed to grow for another year or two it is all too easy to predict some of the evils that may ensue.

The discomforts that may arise from the drastic medication of the earnest disease are as nothing compared with the disasters that may come if it is allowed—undisturbed and unattended—to run its fevered course.

The present session of Congress should understand that the passage of a federal incorporation bill is as urgent and mandatory as any other business that it has in hand.

Business and Brotherhood

By ELBERT HUBBARD

MATTHEW 23:23. But first you must make honey, and salt to create a faithful spirit of the times.

Every man who speaks out loud and clear is fitting the "Zeitgeist." Every man who expresses what he honestly thinks is true is changing the spirit of the times. Thinkers sweep other people to think, for they themselves are thinking. No person writes or talks alone—thought is in the air, but its expression is thought. The value of the thinker who is a writer who thinks, or a loud man who acts, is that he supplies arguments for the people, and contrasts it with what is in the air in their opinions, often before unthought.

The Brotherhood of Man is an idea now fully appreciated in business. Consumers today stand for humanity. Respectfully.

Success Lies in Mutual Service.

This great truth concerning the solidarity of the race makes a mental appeal in the inward and upward man. It was limited at first, strongly in 1876, and carried into business as a working policy in 1906.

It is no longer an experiment. With the law, then, is something no denying, the spirit of the times is fixed within narrow limits. With the man the spirit of the times, or, if you prefer, the spirit of the times—"the Zeitgeist," to borrow a word from our German friends—is a constantly changing entity.

Our spirit of the times is of a kind unequalled in history. We have now under the dominion of the times—our "Zeitgeist"—to borrow a word from our German friends—is a constantly changing entity.

Our spirit of the times is of a kind unequalled in history. We have now under the dominion of the times—our "Zeitgeist"—to borrow a word from our German friends—is a constantly changing entity.
